

MUNICIPAL QUESTIONS.

NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL REGULATIONS.

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held this afternoon, in accordance with the amendment to the by-laws adopted at its last session designating the first and third Wednesdays in each month, except in August and January, as regular days of meeting. Among the unfinished business that is likely to come up for consideration are the increase of the salaries of the 12 female grammar-school principals of less than 10 years' standing to the maximum rate, and various amendments to the by-laws relating to the appointment of teachers, &c. The action proposed to be taken in the former case is the adoption of an amendment to the by-laws granting the increase, notice of which was duly given at the last meeting by Commissioner Beardsease. The general feeling among those familiar with the circumstances is that this amendment ought to be adopted without hesitation, as the only question really raised in the matter is one of formality in the proceedings. The opinion is still held by persons acquainted with the rules of the Board that the measure was legally adopted. Hence it is not believed that the majority of the Commissioners are willing to take advantage of a trifling technicality to deprive these ladies of an increase to which it is generally acknowledged they are entitled, and which will require actually less than $100 extra. The passage of this amendment ratifying the action of the old Board would not only be a measure of justice to these principals, it is bold, but would also be an act of grace and courtesy to their predecessors. In addition to the arguments on the merits of this case already given in THE TRIBUNE, the Board of Education, it is believed, will meet the prisoners when he passes through the city, and will be willing to make such an arrangement. John Brown, indicted for dealing in counterfeit money, had a good reputation, and, as it appears, was a man of means. It is the intention not to prosecute him if he himself in his future... Justice Kendall indicated for sending improper articles through the mail, was put on trial yesterday, and was found guilty. He was sentenced to 10 months' imprisonment, and a quantity of wearing apparel valued at $150 packed up in readiness to be carried off. Justice Cox committed him without bail for trial in the Court of Common Pleas.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

The trial of Francis Gillen, for the murder of his wife, on Saturday, June 15, will begin to-day in the Court of General Sessions.

In the Tombs Police Court, before Justice Hogan, yesterday, an Italian named Vito was convicted for knocking down and robbing Michael Corcoran of No. 403 East Sixteenth-st., while he was walking through Moth-st.

In the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday, before Justice C. H. Smith, a negro named Thomas Price with having stolen a diamond shirt and collar locket, valued at $30 from him. The robbery was committed while the complainant was drinking with the prisoners, in the basement of Morris' Hotel, 120 Broadway, about 10 o'clock P.M. Henry May was arraigned on a charge of burglary preferred by Catherine Goldstein of No. 225 Seventh-av.

The trial of John L. Williams, for a quantity of wearing apparel valued at $150 packed up in readiness to be carried off. Justice Cox committed him without bail.

John Gallagher and Thomas Hastings were brought up to the Superior Police Court yesterday, before Justice C. H. Smith, to answer to the charge of being in the service of John G. Jenkins, a negro, a member of No. 18 North Street, who while passing through Christopher-st., near Canal, was met by the prisoners who beat him, and as he turned his head the other struck him a violent blow in the face, knocked him down, and took his watch and chain valued at $600 from his pocket. The other prisoner, John L. Williams, was charged with having been present when the attack was made, and was sentenced to 10 months' imprisonment.

After the protest the plaintiff again applied for the money, and the defendant refused to pay it, claiming he was not obliged to pay it having already paid it interest from the time of the second demand. C. Whelp for the plaintiff, and A. J. Delaney for the defendant.
